WIT AND HUMOR.

A schoolboy to explain the difference between "dear" and "deer," said one was a biped and the other a quadruped.

In dizzy restraint: A customer is dissatisfied with the microscopic dimensions of a fish ball (with no bread) and makes a great kick. "Where's the proprietor? Send him here," he demands. The waiter with an ineffable smile, "Oh, monsieur, the proprietor never eats here."

An exchange says: "The Pennsylvania Dutch girls make good preserves, but it doesn't say how much sugar you take to a pound of Dutch girl, nor how long you let 'em boil." The receipt for preserving Dutch girls should be published. "Put 'em in de bag."

A Clinton youth refused to take a pill. His crafty mother thereupon placed the pill in a preserved pear and gave it to him. Presently she asked: "Tom, have you eaten the pear?" He replied: "Yes mother—all but the seed."

Many a father's pride is shocked, and many a mother's heart bleeds a trifle as their boy "up at Grandpa's" writes his little scrawl home, "This is the bos place, I lik living hear better than to home," and they inwardly vow never to be harsh to the little fellow when he comes back. Make home the "bos" place for your children even if they seem to be "bos" of it.

Mark Twain says the only introduction to a literary audience that he ever had that seemed to him the right word in the right place—a real inspiration—was as follows: "Ladies and gentlemen, I shall not waste any unnecessary time in the introduction. I don't know anything about this man; at least I only know two things about him—one is that he has never been in the penitentiary, and the other is, I can't see why."

"My friend," began a serious individual who called in at a provision dealer's the other day, "will you give me a few minutes to talk about your future?"—"Futures! no, blast your futures!" "I'm stuck $3,000 with the blanketed things. I'm doing nothing but a spot business now, blanketed little of that. There's Charley C. upstairs, he'll talk futures with you until eternity—good morning"—and the porkman rushed out leaving the good groceryman, who was inexperienced in the slang of the trade, speechless with astonishment, and he saved up his remarks on the future for a future opportunity.

Greatest Remedy Known. Dr. King's new discovery for Consumption is certainly the greatest medical remedy ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity. Thousands of once hopeless sufferers, now loudly proclaim their praise for this wonderful discovery to which they owe their lives. Not only does it positively cure Consumption, but Coughs, Cold, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Hoarseness, and all afflictions of the Throat, Chest and Lungs yield at once to its wonderful curative powers as it by magic. We do not ask you to buy a large bottle until you know what you are getting. We therefore earnestly request that you call on your druggist, Hubbard & Sweating, and get a bottle free of cost, which will convince the most skeptical of its wonderful merits, and show you what a regular one dollar size bottle will do. For sale by Hubbard & Sweating, Decatur, Ill.

Thanksgiving day being one of our regular holidays, there will be no paper issued from this office to-morrow. Printers and editors being unused to thanksgiving day, fare cannot possibly work and eat turkey on the self same day.

GIVE THANKS.

The recurrence of our annual day of thanksgiving never brought with it more substantial reasons for the proper and hearty observance of the occasion than it does in this year of grace 1860. With garners bursting by reason of fullness, with the whole land ringing with fatness, with business of all kinds stimulated to an unusual degree by the general prosperity of the times, with peace prevailing in all our borders, with health, plenty and happiness abounding upon all sides, why should we not give thanks and be exceeding glad? Of a truth, no people upon earth, no nation of which we have any historical account, ever had such substantial and abundant reasons for being satisfied with their condition as have the American people to-day.

GARFIELD'S official majority in Michigan turns out to be 52,981.

ANOTHER census is to be taken of certain districts in South Carolina where the charge of fraud has been made.

THE Republican gain of New York this year over 1876, was 66,327, in Pennsylvania, 89,979, in Ohio, 63,080, and in Philadelphia, 68,401.

THE New York State canvassers have declared the following result of the late election in that State: Garfield, 555,514; Hancock, 531,511; Weaver, 12,373; Dow, 1,517.

BARNUM's reported majority for Hancock of 8,000 in New York, which caused scores of Democrats to lose their money, has been changed into an official majority for Garfield over Hancock of 20,929.

GEN. GARFIELD reached Washington last evening, and went quietly to his residence. He will remain at the capital a week or ten days arranging his private business and will then return to Ohio, to await the great event of his life—his inauguration as president of the United States.

BEAUCHEMIN, the minister of a Methodist church at Northport, Long Island, the other Sunday, thanked God for the election of Garfield; some of the unregenerated Democrats of that church are making a fuss on account of what they term "the alleged interference of the minister in politics." Evidently those benighted brethren need praying for.

IN A field near Sheerness, England, that has been in cultivation for centuries, the foundations of the convent for seventy nuns, founded on Minster-in-Shropshire in the year 670 have just been discovered. The extensive buildings were many times pillaged and destroyed by the Danes, and were finally rebuilt in 1136. Objects of interest in good preservation have already been brought to light.

THE Virginia board of state canvassers have ordered certificates of election to issue to the following congressmen: First district, G. T. Garrison, Democrat; second, J. F. Beazley, Republican; third, George D. Wise, Democrat; fourth, Joseph Jorgenson, Republican; fifth, George C. Cabell, Democrat; sixth, J. R. Tucker, Democrat; seventh, John Paul, Readjuster; eighth, James Barbour, Democrat; ninth, Abram Falkner, Readjuster. The canvass for presidential electors is not yet concluded.

THE question whether cruelty to wild beasts in a menagerie shall be permitted has just come up in the form of a test case before the Derby police court in England, and has been decided in the negative. The ground on which the Royal Society for the Prevention of cruelty to Animals won the case was that wild beasts, caged and fed by hand, are domestic animals. The beasts in question were hyenas, and their turn had inflicted gross cruelty upon them to induce them to jump through a hoop of fire in doing which their backs were burned, while their heads and bodies bore marks of blows dealt with a club. In the same court another person was fined for whipping a man lion belonging to the same menagerie.

"BUCKET SHOPS"

Now They are Run, and Where the Patron and Profits come from.

The Chicago Times of yesterday supplements an account of the failure of the Chicago Public Produce Exchange, succumbed. The assets of the corporation are scattered through fifty different banks all over the country, and the number of the creditors will be between one thousand and fifteen hundred.

In addition to the information touching yesterday's failures a great many other facts were elicited in regard to the methods in general of the bucket shop, and in regard to its customers, its profits, and its losses. It owes its existence, probably, to certain evils that exist in the regular board of trade and stock exchanges. The demand for a market for small lots has always been unheeded by the regular exchange. In New York no sale less than a hundred shares makes a quotation, and in Chicago no sale of grain less than five thousand bushels, or of provision lots less than two hundred and fifty packages. There are sold in the New York stock exchange what are called odd lots, but these sales of less than one hundred shares are always a trifle off the market rate. Besides this evil of too large lots, there were the too large commissions. Moreover, a sale can not always be made on the regular board at the ruling market rate. Especially is this true of large lots. A sale of part will affect the market, and the price obtained on the remainder will be a trifle off. There are other reasons that gave rise to the bucket shop, but these are the principal. From little to great these establishments grew. The one that failed yesterday did a business equal to any three of the greatest commission houses in Chicago. It handled three and a half millions of margin in a year. Its average transactions were 500,000 bushels of grain, 5,000 packages of provisions, and from 2,000 to 5,000 shares of stock a day. Its telegraph bills reached $50,000 in a year, it employed four telegraph operators of its own, received its messages in its own office, sent out and received over a thousand messages daily, and employed a force four times as large as the largest commission house in the city.

THE PROFITS

of such an establishment are two fold. There is first the regular commission, which, in itself, upon a business of so great proportions as that of the concern just burst, would probably make it profitable. But there is besides the gambling profit, upon which these establishments chiefly rely. There is not a single quantity that figures in the gambler's equation that is not used by the bucket shop proprietor in casting up his probable profit and loss. The old known quantities "that a man will not stop play while he is winning," and that "the bank is bound to win in the long run," are as familiar to one as to the other.

They trade upon the known fact that outsiders make no money," said a well-known operator to the reporter on yesterday, in the course of a conversation upon the matter. "I know," said he, "that about a year ago one of the great commission houses in this city, as a matter of curiosity, made a careful, tabulated statement of the whole of its business with its customers between one January and another. The object was to see what would have been the profit or loss if the house had filled all the orders itself without going on the board. The result of the calculation showed that the firm would have made a profit of $90,000 had it filled all its customers' orders itself; that is, paid profits when there were profits, and pocketed the margin when there were losses.

The transactions of these establishments are all square enough, so far as I can see. There is no room for fraud, and there are certain advantages to be had in trading with them. The failure will be a great boon to many smaller ones, and to not a few of the larger ones, too. The amount of business done by these bucket shops is enormous."

CHARACTER AND AMOUNT OF THE BUSINESS DONE.

Some of the facts regarding the character and amount of business done by the shop that failed on yesterday will be a surprise to the majority of people. Of the 500,000 bushels of grain which have been bought and sold each day on telegraphic orders, one-third is bought or sold on orders from the east, principally from New York City. All this out-of-town trade is done with brokers and regular commission houses, there not being a half dozen individual traders in the whole of the list. It is generally supposed that the customers of a basket shop are innocents—farmers, school-teachers and clerks. This is true partly, but they do not send their orders direct, but transmit them through brokers and commission houses. The out-of-town orders ran from 1,000 to 100,000 bushels, or from 25 to 5,000 packages, or 25 to 1,000 shares of stock. Almost all these orders come from respectable people, and are sent to the basket shop instead of to a regular firm because the loss cannot exceed a fixed limit in a deal with them, while with a commission firm there is no limit to the loss. The commission men hold their customers responsible on any fall on a purchase, or any rise on a sale. The basket shop

TELEGRAPHIC THAT BLUNDER.

Which Reduced Garfield's Majority in Indiana.

AN INSULT TO THE STARS AND STRIPES.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 23.—The Indianapolis Journal this morning prints the following: "A very strange and stupid blunder occurred yesterday in connection with the official canvass of the returns of the Presidential election in this State, in the presence of the Governor and the Marshals, as prescribed by law. It was found that there was no Marshal and no returns from the Eighth Congressional District, embracing the counties of Clay, Fountain, Montgomery, Parke, Vermillion, Vigo and Warren. As there was no returns they could not be counted. The result is a seeming reduction of the Republican plurality by about 2,500. How this stupid and inexcusable blunder occurred is not certainly known. Whether the Marshal for the Eighth District did not receive his commission, or whether he did not collect the returns, or whether he willfully neglected to deliver them to the Secretary of State, we are not informed at present. Certainly it is, that there were no returns yesterday from that district, and the official report of the Republican plurality in the State is cut down by just the plurality in that district. If the vote throughout the State had been close this blunder might have caused great embarrassment, possibly even furnishing a pretext for the Democrats to claim the electoral vote of the State. As it is, no real harm is done except that the officially reported Republican plurality does not represent the real plurality. The matter should be investigated and the responsibility placed where it belongs. It is outrageous that the result of a popular election should be subjected to the risk of so stupid and inexcusable a blunder."

THE State Board of Canvassers of Nebraska report the following result: Garfield, 54,979; Hancock, 28,523.

THE Maine Senatorship is said to be between William P. Frye and Eugene Hale, with the chances favoring Frye.

THE Review of this morning, in flaming headlines, announces "Garfield's majority in Indiana considerably reduced," but conveniently omits to state that the real reason of the reduction is because of the stupid blunder or willful negligence of a Democratic official, who failed to send the returns of his district to the state capital. It so happens that this official neglect of duty does not affect the final outcome, but it is just as reprehensible as though it had resulted in a reversal of the people's real decision. Democracy is not to be trusted, it seems. Where its officials are honest they have a strange fashion of neglecting their duties.

POVERTY, suffering and crime, are said to be alarmingly rise in Russia, where bad crops have impoverished the people and burdensome taxation is eating up their very substance. It is no wonder that Socialism, and Nihilism and regicide flourish on this fertile soil. Russia is, to-day, a communistic volcano incomparably worse and more dangerous than Ireland.

GUTHRIE'S Sketch of Noah Davis

"Guthrie gives the following sketch of Judge Noah Davis, who presided in the Philip trial, and gave Howitt such an exhortation.

Noah Davis is one of the high class lawyers, politicians and social leaders of the interior of this state, who was the candidate for the United States senate against Roscoe Conkling in 1866. If he had then reached the senate instead of Conkling, there is a fair probability that he would have been the profit or loss if the house had filled all the orders itself without going on the board. The result of the calculation showed that the firm would have made a profit of $90,000 had it filled all its customers' orders itself; that is, paid profits when there were profits, and pocketed the margin when there were losses.

The transactions of these establishments are all square enough, so far as I can see. There is no room for fraud, and there are certain advantages to be had in trading with them. The failure will be a great boon to many smaller ones, and to not a few of the larger ones, too. The amount of business done by these basket shops is enormous."

Davis has a half brother named Barber, who is said to be the most expert lobbyist ever seen around Albany.

There is a story, perhaps an idle one, that when the judge was a candidate for the senate against Conkling, this half-brother got up a subscription of $25,000 from Bill Tweed to help elect him.

If this was so, it did not prevent Davis giving Tweed the most direful sentence in his power, and with it a tremendous lecture, in itself dismaying to Tweed's soul.

In 1872 Noah Davis was elected a justice of the supreme court for the first or metropolitan district, succeeding the tribe of judges who had been impeached and removed—such as Barnard and Cardozo.

SPENDING AND SAVING.

Sprungfield Republican. Spending is well, but saving is better. Spending wisely is a very nice art, and the more moderately it is indulged, the more worth the dollar will be got in return. We are very glad that people are again in a position to spend, but we want to remind them that the first right use to make of that privilege is to pay debts, second, to accumulate against age and disaster. Expediency should be made rigidly subject to income, and well within it, so as to leave over some margin or savings. Some people are doing it, and many too, whose incomes are very narrow. Looking along the column of daily deposits at one of our saving banks we find sums from $1 to $10 more frequent than any other, the weekly or monthly muckle delved by honest toil, rescued from consumption, and brought to add the muckle by a servant girl, the teacher, the mechanic, the laborer, the clerks and others on a small salary.

To the business man and the capitalist also, the reminder is seasonable that prosperity is the time to pay debts, not to expand credit. Of course enterprise is urgent, expectations are great, credit is the charity that helps many an undertaking upon its feet and gives it being, but it is wise to make credit short, to require that a good proportion of first profits should go to replace borrowed capital with paid up capital. There is another day of reckoning in the future, when credit will shrivel up, if we are ready for it, it will never come, and just as soon as we cease to be ready for it, it will come.

THE vocabulary of the schoolboy has long been noted for expressiveness, if not for elegance, as was illustrated the other day by an incident in the Harvard school. The Principal had been giving the young gentlemen a careful lecture on the subject of mythology which he thought he would supplement by a brief examination of the class on the subject of the lecture. "In the first place," said the Principal, "who can tell me what a myth is?" Up went a hand. Principal—"Well, what is a myth?" Boy—"A stiff—a blind."

IT HAPPY is that man who does not put his trust in Princes. But happier still, in these risky times, is he who takes no "flyers" in stocks, grain, or provisions.

GIVE THANKS.

Arrangements Made for a Fitting Observance of Thanksgiving Day in Decatur—Closing Notices.

In compliance with the proclamations of President Hayes and the Governors of the states, the patriotic and Christian people throughout the Union will on to-morrow give thanks to the Ruler of the Universe for the manifold blessings of peace and prosperity that have been showered upon us as a Nation. The custom of observing the last Thursday in the month of November of each year as a day of general Thanksgiving, had its origin in the New England States in this country, and it is fitting that we should manifest in a proper manner our appreciation of the fatherly protection and beneficence of the Giver of All Good. Union religious services, as usual, will be held in this city, and innumerable family reunions will be held.

THE PROGRAMME.

Following is the programme of exercises for the Union Religious Thanksgiving services to be held at the Christian church, commencing at 10:30 a.m.

Hymn to be read by Rev. N. S. Haynes of the Christian church.

Prayer—By Rev. W. H. Prestley, of the Presbyterian Church.

Reading of second hymn and Scriptural selection by Rev. W. R. Goodwin, of the First M. E. Church.

Hymn to be read by Rev. W. H. Batson, of the Baptist Church.

Thanksgiving Sermon, by Rev. W. H. Musgrave, of Staup's Chapel.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Lord, of the United Brethren Church.

Hymn to be read by Rev. I. S. Richmond, of the Church of God.

Benediction.

The singing will be in charge of Prof. Luiz.

ST. JOHN'S (EPISCOPAL) CHURCH

The rector, Rev. W. H. Moore, will conduct religious services at St. John's (Episcopal) church on North Water st., to-morrow forenoon, commencing at 14:45 o'clock. Sermon and holy communion.

CLOSING NOTICES.

THE SCHOOLS.

The Decatur Public Schools will be closed on Thursday and Friday that the teachers and pupils may have an opportunity of attending family and social reunions, give thanks, and partake of tempting turkey dinners.

THE POSTOFFICE.

The postoffice will be closed to-morrow from 1 to 6:30 p.m.

THE TELEPHONE.

The telephone exchange will remain closed to-morrow from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

THE LIBRARY.

The Decatur Public Library and Reading-Room will be closed to-night at nine o'clock and will not re-open until Friday morning at the usual hour.

BANKS AND BUSINESS HOUSES.

The banks and a number of leading business houses of the city will remain closed to-morrow.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Until further notice the "queer little bucket shop" will continue to be closed and inactive. The anxiety to make deals is great among a number of resident speculators, but they have so far looked in vain for the return of Blackburn & Holmes. Will they ever come back.

The Great Big 4 Minstrels.

To-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the great Big 4 Minstrels—none better on the road—will give a gala day matinee performance at the opera house, and at night the collections were very, very light. Previous to his departure on yesterday Mr. Railton held a consultation meeting with his friends and demanded to be reimbursed. His friends promptly put up the necessary cash to pay the Commissioner's expenses home. The main wing of the army is in barracks at St. Louis, where a series of demonstrations will be held during the winter.

"The Banker's Daughter."

Unquestionably the richest dramatic treat of the season will be the appearance at the opera house, in this city, on Monday evening next, of Collier's great New York Combination in Bronson Howard's charming French play, "The Banker's Daughter." Of this superb drama the Milwaukee "Sentinel" said:

"The Banker's Daughter" stands in the first rank of the society sensational drama. Perhaps it is not stretching the truth to call it the best sense. There is not an impure suggestion throughout the entire production. Different phases of human character are wisely and naturally distributed throughout the play. The lines are full and contain no superfluities. Scarcely one could be omitted without being missed in the context. The plot is woven round the story of a true woman's sacrifice in marrying a true man, whom she does not love, to save from ruin a not sterio honorable father, who deserves both. The terrible truth appears to the husband only after six years of married life. It is a tale of two cities, New York and Paris. Mr. Collier has gathered together an exceptionally strong cast; and if the size of the audience last night, any criterion, is keeping a well-received reward for the sterling merits of his players."

The sale of reserved seats, at $1.00 each, will open at Curtis & Co.'s to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Thanksgiving Festival.

The ladies of the African M. E. church will give a festival at the grand jury room to-morrow (Thursday) evening, to which they invite the public. An abundance of refreshments will be served at reasonable prices.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Alice Priest, a student at the Illinois Female College at Jacksonville, has returned home, and will spend Thanksgiving day with relatives here.

Deputy U. S. Marshal John F. Rittenhouse, of Champaign, was in the city on yesterday and dined at Priest's Hotel.—He glanced into the chalk mark room, and passed out into the frigid atmosphere without a murmur.

Col. J. H. Barkley, Adjutant B. C. Winston, and Brigade Inspector, Major G. S. Dana, of Springfield, Captain McNight and a detachment of the Taylerville Guards, all of the Illinois National Guard, have notified Captain Foster that they will be in Decatur to-morrow, and attend the Guards' reception and ball at their armory to-morrow night. Many other strangers will also be present.

Charles F. Armstrong, who represents the noted wholesale boot and shoe house of Dodge, Phelps & Co., Chicago, has returned home from a peregrinating business tour through the wilds of southwestern Arkansas. He has closed his winter's engagement, and will make Decatur his abode of peace and quietude until the swallow northward flies, when he will strap his Saratoga trunk and make his periodic grand rounds.

Gen. G. A. Smith, U. S. Internal Revenue Collector for New Mexico, who arrived in Decatur on October 5th, and has been having a grand good time paying his respects to his old friends and acquaintances in this city, Springfield, St. Louis, Danville, Mt. Pulaski, Boddy, Macon, Latham and Mt. Zion, gave us a call this forenoon and renewed his subscription to the REPUBLICAN. The General will eat turkey in Decatur to-morrow, and on Friday will leave for home. His daughter, Miss Nellie, will spend the winter here.

G. S. Railton, the Salvation Army Commissioner, is no longer exposing himself to inclement weather in Decatur. He departed for St. Louis on yesterday. He came here on Saturday last at the request of a couple of our citizens, who we understand guaranteed to pay his traveling expenses and entertain him while here, and who thought he would succeed in organizing a Salvation Army squad in Decatur; but the congregations were small and the collections were very, very light. Previous to his departure on yesterday Mr. Railton held a consultation meeting with his friends and demanded to be reimbursed. His friends promptly put up the necessary cash to pay the Commissioner's expenses home. The main wing of the army is in barracks at St. Louis, where a series of demonstrations will be held during the winter.
